CONCEPT & PURPOSE

Prep All-Stars Fall Elite Clinics and Junior Elite Clinics were created to give players a chance to learn the game from top coaches and to compete against other great players. Prep All-Stars Fall Clinics are a good way to get a head start for your upcoming season.

ELITE CLINIC FEATURES

The clinic is for advanced players in grades 9th - 12th. The clinic begins with learning stations that will offer players an opportunity to work on skills and learn advanced basketball concepts. Next, the players are broken down into teams and play a minimum of two games. This is a great opportunity to go head-to-head with some of the best competition in the clinic.

New for 2010, AllStarHoopsReport.com will select an MVP in each division. The MVP will receive a *free invite to Prep All-Stars Elite Summer Camp. *Transportation is not included.

JR. ELITE CLINIC FEATURES

This Fall, Prep All-Stars also has a Junior Elite Clinic at each location for advanced players in grades 6th - 8th. They will remain separate from the Elite Clinic, but it is never too early to make a name for yourself. The cost of the Junior Elite Clinic is $125 (same as the Elite Clinic). Each Junior Elite Clinic participant will be involved in skill development sessions, play in at least two games, and receive a clinic T-shirt.

New for 2010, AllStarHoopsReport.com will select an MVP in each division. The MVP will receive a *free invite to Prep All-Stars Jr. Elite Summer Camp. *Transportation is not included.
